

I'm Here – Where Are You?

Have you been looking for me?

That's the question being asked by this little Jack Russell type found wandering in the Post Office and elsewhere around the Bridge Centre, Tullamore, on Friday morning last (September 18th 2009) and given into the care of the Offaly SPCA by a concerned dog-lover.

Although she was not wearing a collar or identification tag, Eva (as she has been re-christened) clearly has been used to life as a household pet. She impresses as being very quiet, inoffensive, and friendly. If she has not been claimed by her owner she will be available for adoption next week. Inquiries may be made by 'phoning 086 3785584.

The Jack Russell named as Johnny, featured last week, has been claimed and taken home by a delighted owner. Contact also has been established with the owner of Cooper, the Cocker Spaniel.

While demand for dogs exceeds supply at the moment, so far as the OSPCA is concerned, the same certainly does not apply to kittens and cats. Homes are urgently required for over 30 felines. Again the number to ring is 086 3785584.
